Re: April National Mailing

Dear brothers and sister Cursillistas:

On behalf of the National Cursillo® Movement Secretariat and Staff, I would like to extend our best wishes for your continued good health, abundant blessings of God's grace in all you do, and a blessed Holy Week and Easter Season.

As we continue our journey toward our Heavenly Father, I would like to suggest that we, from time to time, take a moment to ask ourselves: "What is God calling me to do? In his book, Reflexiones, the founder of the Cursillo of Christianity Movement, Eduardo Bonnín responded effectively and positively to this question when he claimed: "No se puede ser más que cristiano. Pero sí mejor cristiano." (You cannot be more than a Christian. But you can be a better Christian.) Eduardo further asserted, "Ser cristiano no es un proyecto que se realiza, sino una realización que se proyecta." (Being a Christian is not a project to be realized, but a realization that is projected.)

In our doctrine of faith, we believe that a person becomes a Christian through baptism, and that this is the most that we can "be". Indeed, it is the highest state of fulfillment in which a person can live. During the Cursillo Weekend we became conscious of the joy and precious gift which is our baptism when we understand that we are the adopted children of God, the sisters and brothers of Christ, and the living temples of the Holy Spirit. This is the best we can "be". Our baptism takes away original sin, but not our weaknesses, passions, errors, ignorance, and so many other faults in us as created human persons. Therefore, it is in dying to these faults – through God's grace, my brothers and sisters in Christ, that we can start to better ourselves and to grow as Christians.

The Cursillo of Christianity Movement provides us with an attainable method that enables us to "be" what Eduardo speaks of; namely, better Christians. This method is our interior tripod of Piety (Heart), Study (Intelligence) and Action (Will). It is an approach which enables us to live that which is fundamental for being a Christian; i.e., a realization which naturally projects and produces much fruit – through God's grace – and which is shared in the Friendship Group Reunion, and in the large Cursillo communal gatherings that we know as Ultreya.

Through Christ, with Christ, and in Christ, we become friends with the Holy Trinity. This loving friendship realizes that the love which God has for us is our “Piety”. Applying ourselves to discover this love, how we are loved by our Heavenly Father, and how we can best love Him in return, is our “Study”. Sharing this knowledge with our brothers and sisters who are like us, in God's image of love and being love, is our “Action”. Thus our action becomes a desire and a natural necessity to love in sharing.

We may sometimes ask ourselves, “Why is it that many Cursillistas who lived a Cursillo do not continue living their Cursillo in their fourth day?” There are many reasons, but the most obvious one is that we have not properly understood the purpose for having Cursillo Weekends. The Cursillo Weekend experience is not about the team or the many varied and sundry reasons that some Cursillo leaders believe it is. We should understand that the reason we have Cursillo Weekends is for the “Cursillista” to live what is fundamental for being a Christian in his God-given environments; i.e., within his or her family, work, entertainment, etc., shared through the best means which is, in friendship toward every person we encounter. We must also understand that we as Cursillo leaders cannot give what we do not have (Group Reunion) by giving the Rollo on Total Security and not living it ourselves or not giving it at all during the Cursillo Weekend.

The one thing that prevents us from seeing ourselves as we truly are is fear. Love, however, overcomes fear. Fear is of no good. Love is what counts. We need to love ourselves and we can do so by first forgiving ourselves for our faults and weaknesses, and by striving constantly to overcome them. We accomplish this forgiveness of self, first and foremost, through the Sacrament of Reconciliation; in the preparing of ourselves to invite Our Lord Jesus Christ to live within us through the Sacrament of Holy Eucharist. We are also helped through the prayers of our Blessed Mother Mary, the Angels, and the Saints in the City of God. This love of self is fully realized when we become aware that God loves us in Jesus Christ and His Holy Spirit. “Love, then, consists in this: not that we have loved God but that he has loved us and has sent his Son as an offering for our sins.” 1 John 4:10.

It is through the Cursillo Movement's method of Friendship Group Reunion and Ultreya that helps us to live what is fundamental for being a Christian; that through God's grace we are enabled to be instruments of God through Jesus Christ in our God-given environments. We must understand that the purpose of the Cursillo Movement is not just to have Cursillo Weekends, but to select restless individuals with personality and humility in order to accelerate Christianity in the environments, thus actively building the Kingdom of God.

Love is the only thing a Christian can do, and it is in and through the three friendships with God, oneself, and with our brothers and sisters, where this realization of love is projected throughout our lives. This is where the Church is edified and souls are saved. As Bonnín reminds us, “Amar es lo único y todo lo que puede hacer un cristiano. Y es la condición previa para que pueda ser cristiano todo cuanto hace. El amor es, a la vez, la condición, el comienzo, el medio, la constante cristiana y la meta.” (To love is the only thing and the most that a Christian can do. And it is the first condition to be Christian in everything done. Love is, at the same time, the condition, the beginning, the mean, the Christian constant and the goal.) Reflexiones. And recalling what Saint Paul said, “There are in the end three things that last: faith, hope, and love, and the greatest of these is love.” 1 Cor. 13:13.

Let us, therefore, enliven and discipline ourselves first in our internal tripod of piety, study, and action, shared in grace with our Friendship Group Reunion and with our Cursillo community, Ultreya. By these means, we will experience God's grace to enable us to stay faithful to the Foundational Charism of the Cursillo of Christianity Movement; bringing our brothers and sisters in our God-given environments to the new Jerusalem; by being a friend, by making a friend, and by bringing our friend to Christ.

Christ has a necessity to love and be loved. Praise God in our Lord Jesus Christ in the unity of the Holy Spirit.

THE COMMUNION OF SAINTS

Fr. Miguel Gonzalez

In a catechesis class for children, the priest of the parish decided to give his little parishioners a tour of the church. He first took them to the sacristy, and then they almost visited the inside of the church. The tour ended in the main room of the church in front of the altar. While contemplating the beauty of the altar, the priest pointed to the beautiful windows that adorned the church and he told them how each individual window reflects the image of some of the saints of our Church. On one of the colorful windows, the priest took advantage of the opportunity to ask his students: “My children, who can tell me which is the most important work of the Saints of our church here?” One of the children raised his hand and answered: “The Saints allow the reflection of the light of Christ.” Without any doubt, those simple words spoke of a great truth when that student was contemplating the rays of the sun penetrating through those colorful windows to brighten the illustration of the saints whose images were shining throughout the inside of the church.

It is certain that with the help of the Holy Spirit and with great sincerity did the little child give the priest such an appropriate answer when he was contemplating those windows. The Saints of our Catholic Church during their pilgrimage on this earth knew how to radiate with joy the light of Christ. By means of their services and their generous responses to the call of Jesus Christ, the saints nourished and strengthened the belief of their contemporaries with their examples and testimonies of faith. That same hope and faith that they offered to so many people in the past still continues to flourish among us through their constant intercessions on our behalf.

The Saints have lived exemplary lives! Therefore, after they have departed from this world, the Church recognizes them as members of the Communion of Saints in heaven. In union with all those who left this world fulfilling the will of God, the saints become part of this glorious communion in the eternal and glorious Jerusalem.

The Communion of Saints is the triumphant Church that awaits us in heaven. We are members of a Pilgrim Church, faithfully living our baptismal commitment and anxiously waiting for that glorious day when our Brother Jesus guides us toward that eternal dwelling already prepared for us. In preparation for that magnificent encounter, we must wisely equip our spirit with the proper tools that we have acquired from our beautiful living experience of the Cursillo Weekend. The method is neither new nor mysterious. The saints with their own lives have left us the example that we have received in our Cursillo works. They prepare us for that Fifth Day in order to help us cross the Threshold of Hope as Pope John Paul II has reminded us so many times.

It is encouraging enough to realize that with our Service Sheet our spirituality can continue its growth each day while we are doing our examination of conscience to reflect on how we have lived a God-centered life through Piety, Study, and Action. This in union with our regular Group Reunion and Ultreya will be able to help us discover and experience in advance what awaits us in heaven. This common union among brothers and sisters helps us confidently feel the aid that the Communion of Saints in heaven offers to us through their continued intercessions for each one of us. They serve like mirrors that reflect us in their stirring discipleship and conversion stories. The Communion of Saints feeds our hope and motivates us to be conscious of the actual graces that by means of prayers help me persevere in my life of Grace.

The Communion of Saints impels me to discover the Christ who lives in me, “since all the faithful form one body, the good of each is communicated to the others.” (Catechism of the Catholic Church - #947) Through our apostolic actions, we are encouraged to communicate through our living witness of the Christ who truly lives in us. That we may become “stained-glass windows” where the graces penetrating into our souls and generating the Seven Gifts of the Holy Spirit, would fortify us so that we may incarnate Him in our daily environments.

I pray that together we may value the means offered by the Cursillo Movement so that we, like the Saints in the windows of the Church, will allow Christ to radiate his Light to others, to help them discover that with Him our life is a “graceful” De Colores life.

FRIENDSHIP GROUP REUNION (PERMANENT, NORMAL, NATURAL, ETC.)

“I can’t explain in words what I feel...” Surely we have heard this statement at a Closing.

Being an essential piece of our Cursillo Movement, there is always a lot that can be said when we speak about the Group Reunion. It is wonderful that we have so much good literature in all aspects of the subject; therefore, I would limit myself to emphasize about its importance and what can be accomplished when it is an authentic one.

Eduardo Bonnín in his booklet titled Manifesto, shares the following witness of a man to his Bishop at the end of a Closing: “You do not know nor understand what I feel right now, having had an encounter with Christ. You have always had Him; I hadn’t. Therefore, I can barely relay to you what is happening to me. How should I say it? It is like a blind man who was able to see for the first time a bright night full of stars; the smile of his child, and the face of his mother.” It was the explosive grace of the last day of a Cursillo Weekend, when the life of all is made into singing, and the singing is made into the life of all.

Service Sheet – Piety, Study, and Action

This same grace which give us back our eye sight and allows us to see Jesus and to follow Him (Mk 10:52), is the same grace that we need to secure through our known perseverance means, in order to make it perennial in our life. This is the principal importance of the Service Sheet: For this, and no other is the true meaning of the “Service Sheet,” that of feeling ourselves, in spite of our deficiency insufficiency in all things divine, active and functioning members of the Church, which together with our concrete and defined dose of piety, study and action can make us permanently and visibly the luminous wake of the Lord’s life in the humanity of today, in a vital and decisive link with all the rest. (Structure of Ideas –Page #94)

Our Life in grace – should be made conscious by our study – a progressive knowing of Christ; it should grow by our Piety; and it should be communicated to others by our action- the insertion of our Christian life into the structures –our witness- in an authentic Group Reunion – an essential piece in our Cursillo Movement. The purpose of the Group Reunion is not to do something, but to be better friends and better Christians. “In any Christian group, relationships must be formed on a person-to-person basis, and not on the basis of some task to be done together.” (FI #487)

Many times, the message projected to the Cursillistas during our three day weekend is to “doing” an apostolate and to formulate commitments within a group or an association. The Service Sheet may also be confused to the same mentality. When in reality its content, should be made, adjusted, and adapted to the day and the particular concrete circumstance of my life, constituting an integral part of my Christian life, therefore facilitating the living of the life in grace. The footnote #21 in the recent edition of Structure of Ideas indicates the following: “Let us remember that the “Service Sheet” covers a three fold leaflet, and lamentably it is custom to insist more on piety than on study and action. It is also custom to be utilized, not so the Cursillista concretizes his illusion, but for him or her to formulate secondary commitments attending to acts or affiliation to organizations; commitments which should never be formulated in the three days, nor in a posterior period not sufficient. That is to say, before he himself discovers his place, which in the immense majority – since we are talking of layperson – would simply, be his family, his job, his friends, and his previous likings.”

Friendship – Fundamental Part Of The Group Reunion

In our previous mailing (February 2009) we shared an excellent article with a lot of information about friendship. Friendship is fundamental to the Group Reunion. “The Group Reunion promotes living the Christian life in friendship with others... The Cursillo Movement is interested in creating or forming friendship groups by way of these reunions, so as to perpetuate the Cursillo weekend, to make it a permanent experience to live out, and to live out together, what is fundamental for being a Christian.” (FI #472)

The Fundamental Ideas of our Movement states that, “In friendship everything can be shared: all that one is, all that one does, and all that one has.” (FI #488) Father Hermógenes Castaño from Venezuela, in his rollo Núcleos de Comunidad (Nucleus of Community) from the book titled 54 Temas sobre el Movimiento de Cursillos de Cristiandad (54 Themes about the CM - Coordinated by Rev. Cesáreo Gil) states that “friendship demands a free, joyfully and loving donation and acceptance of that of what one is, all that one does, and all that one has. The first step in friendship is to give the other person our deeds, only and always when such operation is the realization of its own personality. The second step is to give to the other person what one has; our external wealth to the proper individuality and our integral wealth of our own being. The third step, the one which really constitute an authentic friendship, is that of giving oneself – what one really is- to the other, the reality of its own person, (Christ called them friends, because to them, of many other of His contemporary time, only to them He has trusted with the secrets of His life; “what He has heard from His Father” (Jn 15, 15).

“Living, Is To Share What It Is Live”

“Everything which is lived as a Christian should be lived together. The Group Reunion is only a means for living together the Christianity that each one lives or seeks to live.” (Structure of Ideas – Page #110). “All of life is a living together; if it is not lived together, it is not life” (FI #470). By living a conscious, growing, and shared life of grace, “the Group is both intimate and open, personal and ecclesial, receptor and transmitter of Christian life.” (FI #488) By living and sharing what is fundamental for being Christian, they regenerate and perfect the Christian life of each member, therefore perfecting their conversion – growing conversion- or helping in a re-conversion. Therefore, “the Group Reunion is vital to this growth process. It is a group of people who commit themselves to one another so that together they can be transformed in Christ.” (FI #472)

The Group Reunion incites us to deepen, to make conscious the Christianity lived sincerely, and to reflect on the reasons of our surrender. Then, this Christian living must become a Christian sharing, spirituality of a member who is convinced of being part of the “Body”; it is a responsible action of the dogma of the Communion of Saints. With the living and sharing, the group retransmit, not only their Christian life, but all the Christian values that within it brings about.

Such groups, by transmitting their Christian life, give origin to new Christian nucleus which, also, will originate others. In fact our actual Cursillo Movement, proclaimed by Pope Paul VI as one “now able to circulate freely through the streets of the global village with, as it were, proof of citizenship”, owes its origin to nucleus of this type: “A core group of people shared one same mentality, which, translated into life, began a movement. Little by little, this movement tried to order itself (method), to orient itself (purpose), and to define itself (essence); and thus it gave rise to a unique and original contribution towards solution of those problems” (FI #14)

I remember, when sharing with Eduardo Bonnín about this subject, he used to say to me: “Jorge, the very first Group Reunion that of –the Father, the Son, and of the Holy Spirit is our best witness of Communion.” And so, looking at it in the same way, Christ also had His small Group Reunion – James, Peter, and John; the Gospel relates to us the many times when He called them apart. Father Hermógenes Castaño, again writes, “the first nucleus (after Christ’s Resurrection), the Apostles, went on developing other communion groups which, at the same time, developed new groups. The ecclesial community was born from them. ‘We write to you about the Word of life, which has existed from the very beginning. We have heard it, and we have seen it with our eyes; yes we have seen it, and our hands have touched it... what we have seen and heard we announce to you also, so that you will join with us in the fellowship that we have with the Father and with the Son Jesus Christ.’” (1 Jn 1, 1-3)

The Sharing Of The Group

The standard level of the group is guided by the closest moment with Christ –what one is-. Any moment far away from Satan, it is close to Christ... We share our love of God and of our neighbor. We share our love of God by sharing our acts of piety and any other normal act of our life –because anything that we do while living our life in grace increases our grace.

Our love of our neighbor takes shape by bringing others close to Christ. But, how? It is a pity, when you hear as action a long list of the person’s “doing”. Others do not share anything, because perhaps they did not have the opportunity of “doing things” (whether at home, with their kids or their grandchildren at the park, etc.), or of doing “Christian things” (to attend a meeting of a group at their Parish, to serve as a lector, etc.); for them it is like not having any action on that particular week. Perhaps they have forgotten that their action must be a “being”, before it becomes a “doing”. It needs to start with “ourselves” –we need to become the Good News, so that way all our actions may be evangelistic; this is our action. If we can’t make visible the Christ that lives in us, we may never be able to convince any one. It is true that in our action we share what one does, but in the sense of “And now we will make human beings; they will be like us and resemble us.” (Gen 1:26). In other words, how have we contributed so that those surrounding us in our lives will be like Him and resemble Him. What one has, is the How. The giving of oneself, to serve, to love one another... As St. Augustine said –“Love and do what you like”–, because the best sign of love to our neighbors is to seek their life of Grace and their salvation. The question God is often asking us is, “where is your brother...?” (Gen 4:9). Through love let us go into their search; not looking for the easiest nor the hardest way, but the most logical and effective way –in our own daily environments.

I would like to conclude with a quote from the Fundamental Ideas of our Cursillo Movement, article #485, taken from the book Group Reunion – Theory of its Practice, by Rev. Juan Capo “The Group Reunion is not an extra event, but rather a form of life itself; it is not an added obligation one takes on, but rather a help toward perseverance; it is not a mere method, but rather a tangible realization of the dogma of the Communion of Saints. It would be very difficult to find reasons to justify missing a meeting, especially if one understands that the most important function of the Group Reunion is to give a spiritual dimension to everything in one’s life - which should, after all, be one’s first priority and greatest joy.”
